From the Danube, January 25.

AUTHENTIC advices from several places formally contradict those from Poland, which represented a peace between Russia and the Porte as at the door. It seems to be a thing wished for by both parties, but, at the same time, the formidable preparations they are making is a sure sign of the continuation of the war.
Austria Jan. 8. The Court of Vienna has received a Courier from Prince Lobkowitz, their Imperial Majesty's Ambassador at Petersburg, with the Court of Russia's answer, which is very polite, but intimates that her Majesty cannot consent to change the conditions she has already proposed for the peace; so that it is in apartment there will be a fourth campaign.

Breslau, Jan. 9. The theatre of war in Poland will, it is probable, soon be changed, as 10,000 Russians are on march, it is said, to crush the Confe-derates this winter.

Copenhagen, Jan. 28. Baron Bulow is ordered to repair immediately to Holstein, or to Norway, and there wait the King's orders. The Commissioners appointed to carry on the process against the prisoners of state sit daily at the palace of Christianfbourg, from nine o'clock in the morning till four in the afternoon. The day after to-morrow Count Struensee will be brought before them, for the first time, to be interrogated.

Capt. Duval, who had been dismissed, with orders not to return again into the King's dominions,
having cleared himself of all suspicions, hath obtained,
by way of recompence, a company in the regiment of Bornholm.

The day before yesterday was observed, by the King's order, as a day of thanksgiving.

The Bishop of Zealand, the Faculty of Theology,
and all the Clergy, repaired the day before yesterday, by order of the King, to the Palace, when his Majesty said to them, "That he hoped the change
which had lately happened in his Court was not disagreeable to the Clergy."

Paris, Feb. 3. The new Parliament of Franche-
Comte have refused to register some late edicts.

Feb. 4. According to our advices from Copenhagen, the Court keeps very secret all the proceedings relative to the late revolution, especially the motives that gave rise to it. The commission appointed to inquire into this affair, is composed of one member from each department of government, and they have full power to examine what witnesses they think proper, and all the papers of the prisoners. The public is extremely impatient to have the necessary explanation of this extraordinary event; and it is said that the Court will publish a manifesto, in order to justify its conduct to all Europe. The public in general are of opinion, that this manifesto will not make its appearance very speedily; and, in the mean time, it is suspected that ambition, the thirst after government, and the spirit of revenge, have been the principal motives which brought about this extraordinary revolution.

L O N D O N,

Jan. 2. A letter from Poland, dated Dec. 12, says, "Since the King's miraculous escape, a Jesuit at Lemberg has openly preached, that the attempt on his life was very necessary; but he is confined for it, and his whole fraternity are called upon to answer for his behaviour."

Lord Baltimore's will has not yet been proved in the Commons. A caveat is entered by a creditor to prevent the probate.

Lord George Germaine has, we hear, deserted
the opposition, in consequence of some late closing at St. James's; and it is peremptorily asserted that he may, if he pleases, have a civil employment of great importance; but that he never will engage actually as a minister of the crown, unless he is restored to his military honours.

The letter attributed in some of the public prints
to the Duke of Cumberland, and said to be directed to a popular gentleman in Ireland, is an evident forgery; as the Princess of the Blood always subscribe their christian names, not their titles, to what they write; and as, consequently, the signature (if the Duke's) would be H—y, and not C—d.

Lord Sandwich has declared that no more money is at present requisite for the Navy, and that the fleet is now sufficiently formidable to secure the general tranquillity of Europe.

Jan. 25. By a letter from Gibraltar we learn, that a smart Engagement has lately happened between the Moors and Spaniards at Ceuta, that the former had attacked the latter, but were beaten with some loss.

Feb. 1. Yesterday came on before Lord Mansfield in the King's Bench, a cause, wherein a Gentleman from Jamaica was plaintiff, and his Negro servant defendant. The cause of trial was to know how far a black servant was the property of the purchaser by the laws of England, as the black refused going back with his master to Jamaica. But as this was thought by the court a very important decision, it was postponed till towards the end of the term, when his Lordship said he would take the opinions of the rest of his brother Judges.

Letters from Prague, the capital of the city of Bohemia, informs us, that so great has been the scarcity of bread corn throughout that whole state, that the poorer sort of people for several months
past, have been compelled to live without bread;
and that so great is the famine there at present, that neither cat nor dog is to be found alive in any part of that kingdom, the city of Prague excepted, the whole of those two distinct species of animals having supplied the place of other animal food for several weeks.

We are assured that the Earl of Sandwich, as first Lord of the Admiralty, has declared, that no new Lieutenants in the Royal Navy shall be appointed till all the Lieutenants on half pay are first provided for.

Lord Holland's accounts will not be examined
by Parliament this session.

Friday last night the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and common council of Dublin, in respect to the memory of the late Dr. Lucas, his great merit and behaviour in Parliament for the city of Dublin, granted a Pension of 50l. a year to his widow Mrs.
Lucas, and his three youngest children, to commence from the 24th of last November, on which day he died.

It is whispered that a certain unfortunate young man, who in the year forty six was so ill treated by the English and Scotch nobility as to be compelled to make a precipitate retreat from these kingdoms, landed on Monday morning at Dover, and from thence proceeded across the country in the character of a private Gentleman. St. J. Chron.

We hear that six ships of the line are to be got ready for the West Indies, which are to carry over with them four regiments from Ireland, and two from England.

Last night was opened, for the first time, the much talked of receptacle of fashionable pleasure.
The Pantheon, to a crowded company of between fifteen hundred and two thousand people. Imagination cannot well surpass the elegance and magnificence of the apartments, the boldness of the paintings, or the disposition of the light, which last are reflected from gilt Vases, suspended by gilt chains. Besides a number of splendid ornaments that decorate the Rotunda, or great room, there are a number of statues, in niches, below the dome,
representing most of the heathen gods and goddesses,
supposed to be in the ancient pantheon of Rome.
To these are added three more of white porphyry,
the two first representing the present King and Queen, the last Britannia. The whole building is composed of a suite of fourteen rooms, all of which are adapted to particular uses; and each affording a striking instance of the splendour and profusion of modern times. It is thought the company would have been still more numerous, but for the sudden notice of the death of the Landgrave
of Hesse-Cassel, which prevented many from going,
on account of not having been prepared with mortising, and which took off a great deal of that splendid appearance that might otherwise have been expected.
In point of consequence, the company were an Olio
of all sorts; Peers, Peeresses, honourables and rights honourables, Jew brokers, Demireps, lottery informers, and quack Doctors.

Not one person was suffered to be in the gallery
yesterday to hear the debates in the house of commons; even Sir Wm. Maynard was refused, though several members applied for him; nor were even members' sons admitted.

Feb. 8. The late Princess of Hesse, by her will hath given all her estates to two younger children (the other not having been heard of for three years past) except annuities to all her servants, agreeable to their wages; which annuities are to continue until they marry; or get better places where more wages are given; and then the annuities are to cease.

The will proved in Doctors Commons, as the principal part of the estates lies in England.

On Thursday Lord Geo. G-r-m-l-e made a motion in an august Assembly, for bringing in a bill respecting the repeal of the game and dog acts on the 2d of next month, which was entered in the Journal of the house.

Feb. 9. It is said there is a very considerable party in Denmark which espouses the cause of the Queen, attributing all the present mischief to the influence which the Dowager mother has over her son; and whatever is the fate of the unhappy Queen, the people seem determined no longer to endure the intrigues of the double Cabinet. Imperium in Imperio has ever been a solecism in politics, but no government can subsist under a double Cabinet.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, Jan. 28. "It is generally believed here, that the preliminaries between the Turks and Russians are already settled; the last news from Poland, which I have strong reasons to believe are true, being even that hostilities have already entirely ceased."

"But there is another event, which may have very great and melancholy consequences; that is to say, a general insurrection and revolution in the Ministry of Copenhagen. The King and Queen have long contended which of them should hold the reins of government; this went so far, that the Queen obliged the King to break the body Guards as has been mentioned in the public papers. This reform was solely the work of the Queen; and the King signed the act for it against his will: But in the end the King's party prevailed. As the Queen, after having gained a point of such importance, was suspected of wanting to dethrone her husband (of whom I can say nothing) she and her two favourites are put in confinement. Every body is at arms at Copenhagen; a number of houses have been pillaged and destroyed, and without doubt there has been blood shed. We may depend on the truth of this narrative."

The most intelligent are of opinion, that it is not intended we shall take any part in the affairs of Denmark, unless such a step should be unavoidable.

Feb. 11. A contractor of the victualling office has actually killed 300 hogs, to victual a fleet now sitting out for Copenhagen.

The Queen of Denmark was pregnant at the time of the late revolution at Copenhagen, and a report is current that she has since miscarried, and that her health was in a very precarious situation when the last dispatches were sent off.

The King of Denmark, we hear, has sent his Majesty private advice, that he had no way to save the Queen's life but by consenting to her imprisonment. The Danish Monarch has not obtained a safe channel for corresponding explicitly with England; and this, we hear, is the reason why no accounts are published in London by authority.

Feb. 13. Yesterday morning twenty-three deserters were conducted by a Serjeant's guard to Gravesend, in order to be sent to some of the regiments abroad for life; which punishment, we are told, is to be inflicted on all deserters for the future.

Feb. 15. It is an undoubted fact, that an Indian sent over by Heyder Ally, to execute a commission of importance with the directors of the East India Company, has been arrested for a considerable sum of money by order of the House, and is now actually confined in the King's Bench Prison. A Gentleman of spirit and abilities has, we hear, got the man's papers, which are to be published; when, it is expected, a scene will be opened so detrimental to the Company, that a parliamentary enquiry will be the immediate consequence.

A Correspondent observes, that if any man can read a book lately published, intitled, considerations on Indian affairs, and not with the Parliament of Great Britain to inspect into the behaviour of the Company's servants in India, he must be lost to every sense of feeling and humanity. From that fact it appears, that there is no species of villany which has not been committed by the Company's servants upon the unhappy natives of India.

A Correspondent observes, that he most sincerely rejoices to find the Parliament intends to make a serious enquiry into the conduct and management of the East India affairs; for, after examining the different revolutions brought about in that country since the year 1759, after comparing the different stories told by different plunderers, it appears, says our Correspondent, that the conduct of our Countrymen in that quarter of the world is cruel, mercenary, bloody, and tyrannical. And considering the knavish petty larceny of the Company's servants at home, it is high time, adds our Correspondent, for a parliamentary stop to be put to practices which disgrace us as Christians, as Men, and as Britons.

It is asserted, that news of a very interesting nature is arrived from the coast of Coromandel. Holder Ally, driven to the last extremity, has made a very disadvantageous peace with the Marattoes, and has made infant demands for the Chont upon the Company. An army of 60000 horse, with 80 battalions of disciplined infantry were, when the letters came off, advancing slowly towards the Carnatic.

The last advice add, that one hundred thousand horse, of the same nation, have filed off towards Orissa. Sajah Dowla, afraid of the growing power of the Marattoes, has offered to the Council of Calcutta to enter into an offensive and defensive treaty with the Company.

Notwithstanding the bringing about the late revolution in Denmark is attributed to the Queen Dowager of that kingdom, it is certain, that much abler politicians than she, had the planning and putting of it in execution. Juliana Maria is incapacitated by nature from conducting such an important piece of business, being little better than an idiot; however, she was a very necessary tool.

Extract of a letter from Poole, Jan. 11.

"On the 10th ult. the Margaret, Thresher, bound from Newfoundland to this port, struck against one of the Scilly Rocks, and split in half; all the crew perished, except two men being in the fore part of the ship, were driven upon the rock, and remained there three days; when one of them was observed, by some persons in a boat, to make a signal, who immediately went to their relief, and gave them some rum, which revived the man who made the signal, but the other, though in good spirits before, on his seeing the boat approach them, was so transported with the prospect of their deliverance, that he never spoke afterwards, but died as they were carrying them to the shore."

It is positively asserted, that Colonel Luttrell has actually wrote to Lord North, desiring the nominal employment of the Chiltern hundred, for the purpose of vacating his seat in Parliament.—Gen. E. P.

A plan is now in agitation for raising the wages of the seamen in the navy.

A petition is now preparing for Parliament, by a number of Officers, praying for an addition to their half pay.

WILLIAMSBRUG April, 9.

We are inform'd that the noted John Eyre, Esq; who, though a man of fortune, was lately transported into this country for stealing paper, died about three days after his arrival; and that five-and-twenty hundred pounds in bank notes, and fifty guineas, were found about him: He appears to have been one of the greatest miscreants that ever existed; he had lost a leg, and was of a most rueful figure, an index, as it would seem, of the depravity of his heart.

NEW LONDON, April 17.

Capt. Packwood just arrived in 60 Days from Martinico, on the 6th Inst. Lat. 37. 40. Long. 73. 50. spoke a Schooner, Capt. W. Eldridge, from New-York, bound to North-Carolina.

April 24. Capt. Leeds, in 30 Days from Hispaniola, on the 15th Inst. Lat. 34. 12. Long. 67. 36. spoke the Sloop Hannah, Capt. Jacob Hancock, 9 Days from New-York; and on the 15th, Lat. 36. Long. 68. a Brig, from Turks-Island, bound to New-York, which had been in a hard Gale, had lost Part of her Loading of Salt, and was very leaky.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.

Capt. Ruffel, from the Grenades, on the 28th ult. in lat. 16; 10, long —, took up two men in a boat, belonging to a French sloop from Guadaloupe for St. Eustatia, which overlet by a squall of wind: There were eight men on board said sloop, of whom six were drowned. The above two men had been four days in the boat when Capt. Ruffel met them; and he put them ashore at St. Thomas's.

Capt. Foster, from Halifax, on the 17th ult. in lat. 41. long. 66, spoke a schooner, Capt. Edwards, from St. Eustatia for Salem, out 17 days: On the 7th inst. in lat. 35: 47, long. 73: 25, spoke a sloop, Capt. Ross, from Jamaica for Virginia, out 75 days; they were in great distress, having had none but rain water for three weeks; nor any provisions whatever on board; and, to such an extremity were they reduced, that the day Capt. Foster spoke them, they had killed a cat for their subsistence: Capt. Foster supplied them with provisions: And on the 15th, in lat. 37: 11, long. 57: 30, spoke a sloop from Whaling for New-York, out 5 months.

From Charlestown, in South Carolina, we learn, that the prospect of a scarcity of Indian corn in that province, becomes every day more visible, notwithstanding they have been supplied with 6000 bushels from other parts.

Mr. Holt, New-York, 27th April, 1772. Please to insert the following in your next Journal, and you'll oblige one of your constant Readers.

A Gentleman of this city having lately assumed the liberty of asserting in several public companies, that two of our Aldermen had within the space of one month, during the late winter, drawn out of the hands of the Church-wardens £900, under pretence of supplying the needy, the poor, and the indigent; but in truth (if his insinuations are to be credited) with intent to secure their elections by bribing the voters with the public money, raised for the use of the poor, by a tax upon the inhabitants of the city; a most horrible charge and of a nature entirely criminal: Yet this charge, horrid and criminal as it is, he declared was a fact, which he could and would prove. The charge is now absolutely, totally and positively denied, and publicly declared to be a most atrocious falsehood: And I, as a friend to the persons thus cruelly scandalized, and without the least provocation or foundation of truth, undeservedly abused, do hereby in this public manner, call upon the gentleman who exhibited the charge, to stand forth like an honest man, and produce his evidence to support the accusation (if any such he has) if he has none, to name the author of his information, or in default of this to acknowledge his crime, and publicly ask the injured's pardon: one of these three alternatives ought to be religiously complied with; if they are refused, the gentleman must be looked upon as the author himself; and as such, the dirty, low, mean and mercenary motives which induced the propagation of a falsehood so notorious and palpable, shall be explained to the public, and the conduct of the propagator (with respect to this matter) painted in its true colours.

A FRIEND TO TRUTH.

NEW-YORK, April 30.

On Thursday last as Mr. Benjamin Betts, a Carman in this city, was unloading a load of hay, at a stable in King-street, he fell from the top of it, and his head striking the pavement, fractured his skull, he lay till next day, when he expired. Friday afternoon the ship London, Captain Chambers, arrived here from London, after a tedious passage.

With Capt. Chambers came Passengers, Mr. Richard Bache, of Philadelphia, Merchant; Mr. Francis Lewis, and Son; Mr. William Campbell, and Mr. Robert Galt, of this city, Merchants.

From Rocky Hill, in the Province of New Jersey, we have an Account of the sudden death of John Berrien, Esq; third Judge of the Supreme Court for said Province.

Capt. Dorrell, from Bermuda, informs us, That about the 27th ult. a fishing boat belonging to that Island, spoke with Capt. Ingraham, in a schooner from New-England for Dominica, that had lost her masts, and every thing off her deck; that Capt. Ingraham endeavoured to get into the Island, but could not effect it, therefore stood for his destined port.

By a letter from South-Carolina, we learn, That a violent gale of wind happened at Maderia, the 29th of January last, which drove all the vessels then in the harbour out to sea, some with the loss of their anchors and cables, others without boats, among the number was a schooner from Marblehead, that was overlet and part of the crew drowned; those that were saved were taken off the masts, after being 18 hours in the water.

By a letter from a Gentleman in Fort-Georgy, at Madras, in the East-India, to his friend in this city, dated the 11th of July last, we learn that no hostilities had then been commenced in that part of the world, between the French and English, as has been reported for some months past.

On Monday last Mrs. Ferrari, removed from the old, and open'd the spacious elegant new Coffee-House on the opposite cross corner, where the merchants and other gentlemen of the city, her usual customers, assembled in a numerous company, and were unexpectedly and genteelly regaled with arrack, punch, wine, cold ham, tongue, &c. since that, the gentlemen of the two Insurance offices, which are likewise removed from the old to the new Coffee-House, have each of them with equal liberality regaled the company present: The agreeable situation, the elegance of the house, &c. has occasioned a great resort of company ever since it was open'd.

Tuesday last his Majesty's 26th Regiment of Foot was reviewed by his Excellency General Gage: The Officers and Soldiers made an elegant appearance and went thro' the exercise, and a variety of evolutions with the utmost exactness. We hear that the above regiment is to go to Montreal in about a fortnight.

On Monday last one Matthew Latimore, a carman was jammed between two carts, by which melancholy accident his bowels were torn out, and he died the next day in great agonies.

We find by the public papers from South Carolina, that on the 2d of April the general assembly of that Province met at Charlestown, when his Excellency Lord Charles Greville Montagu, the Governor, open'd the session with a Speech, wherein he complains that the business of the province was interrupted by the common's house of assembly persisting in a claim to dispossess the public money without the consent or concurrence of the other two branches of the legislature, and by imprisoning the treasurers for refusing to advance a sum of money in consequence of an order of their house only; which unconstitutional and dangerous proceeding, had laid him under an obligation to dissolve them; but that knowing there are many weighty matters necessary to be brought before the assembly, he has taken meet them, and earnestly depending with alacrity. At the same time he has been signified to him his displeasure, his addition of April 1770 should be—and therefore an those mention'd in the in tain the restrictions spe abortive—and that any result from a further inter cannot be imputed to him.

The Council in their sentiment with his Excellency for his majesty's government of the 14th of think wisely calculated public treasure. They their confidence in the promote the public interest which if he should be condole with him; but share in his satisfaction of consequences resulting in of public business, cannot them.

The papers do not en Commons House—but find they adhere to the and have been dissolved by Extract of a Letter from Carolina, dated

"The general idea (which you will observe) still adhering to their former being the same as regard to the money bill, the treasurers; upon who solved them."

On Wednesday the 8th or assembly of Massachusetts when his Excellency Gov the session with a speech, them, that he had regulations that have been the general court to the with the messages resolve that have passed upon had all been laid before on the court had been and without whose permission moved to Boston.

His Excellency also inform received a letter from his Tryon, proposing, with for the settlement of the that province and New-Yo other matters he recomen the assembly &c.

Jan. 18. The Northern Eagle, a Russian man of war, is arrived at Leghorn, and brings an account that the Russians have taken Mytleno, in the Levant, where they found an immense quantity of naval stores, oil, rice, &c. There were two men of war of 74 guns, and several galleys, on the stocks, almost ready for launching, which they destroyed and suffered the soldiers to plunder the town.

It is talked, that the duties on cotton-wool imported will be discontinued; and that an additional duty of 3s. per piece will be laid on all French cambricks and lawns, exported to the plantations.

The Rev. Mr. Coombe, an ingenious American Clergyman, remarkable for his oratory, having been appointed one of the Chaplains to the Marquis of Rockingham, and taken his Degrees here, is going to embark in a few days for Philadelphia, where he is appointed to a very valuable living.

Jan. 25. A day of public fasting and prayer it is said will speedily be appointed throughout the three kingdoms.

Tuesday night an express arrived at Carlton-house from the Duke of Gloucester, which brings the agreeable news that his Royal Highness was so well recovered from his indisposition, that he thought he should be able in a few days to set out for England.

Feb. 7. When the Princess of Brunswick was informed of the purport of the express from Denmark on Wednesday last, she fell into strong fits, which lasted till a violent flood of tears came to her relief.

Feb. 13. A Gentleman just arrived from Elsinour informs that her Danish Majesty is in perfect good health, and in great spirits, and declares she is innocent of every accusation laid against her; and that her only crime is not having chimed with the Queen Dowager, to make the King a mere cypher, which is her present scheme, and if it succeeds, all the power will be lodged in her and her minions hands.

An evening paper says, "orders are sent to the Governor of Mahon, and the commander of the fleet in the Mediterranean, to stop the Danish men of war in that part of the world till further orders. This spirited act of the Ministry will greatly embarrass the Queen mother of Denmark's party, who have given orders for that fleet to sail immediately for Copenhagen."

Feb. 15. It is, and has long been, a known fact to a few, though never publicly divulged, that the voyage of the late P. D. of W. to the continent some time ago, though pretended to be for the health of her Royal Highness, was solely with the design of remonstrating with the Q. of D. on her conduct; the lightness of which, not alone towards one man, but two or three, had been transmitted over here, by a certain Lady of her Court, and at that time caused the utmost uneasiness to the K. the Q. and the P. D.

When the P. D. of W. had an interview abroad with the Q. of D. it is asserted as an absolute truth, that after reproving her for her behaviour towards the King her husband, and warning her as well of the danger as criminality of being false to his bed (of the truth of which she had almost indisputable intelligence) her M. with the utmost composure, said, "Well, mother, I suppose you have done—and all the answer I have to give is—pray leave my conduct to my own management, and do you go home and manage your K. as well as I do mine."

It is said, that advice has been received from Copenhagen, that the Queen Dowager is appointed to the Regency. The Nobles are in possession of the King.

It is reported, that when the Physician was seized, a letter was found in his pocket from a great Lady, wherein she promised to marry him after the decease of her husband.

The present King of Denmark was born January 19, 1749, and married the 1st of October, 1766, to Carolina Matilda, sister to his Majesty, who was born July 22, 1751; they had a Prince born January 27, 1768 and christened Frederick:—The King's Mother was Louisa, Daughter of George II. King of England: The present Queen Dowager is Juliana Maria, daughter of Ferdinand Albert Duke of Brunswick Wolfenbutel, who has, by her husband the late King of Denmark, a son named Frederick, born 1753.

All discourse on the subject of the late dispatches from Copenhagen is forbidden at St. James's at present, and till the return of the messengers.

A Great Personage is much affected with the present troubles of his family; when the last advices arrived, he was seen to shed many tears, and greatly lamented his unhappy situation.

It is said, that on being acquainted with the news from Denmark, the greatest Lady in the kingdom fainted away, and has not been really well since.

The Princess Dowager, Princess Amelia, and the Princess of Brunswick, are also greatly affected by the late melancholy news.

Extract of a letter from Copenhagen.

"Every considerate man, who remembers the two atrocious attempts of the Danish Dowager to cut off the prince Royal in his father's life-time, and has traced with observant eye her manifest actions from that period to her now so artfully having procured herself to be chosen Regent, at this very convenient crisis for her dark purposes, is fully convinced, the treacherous conspiracy broke out here has long been hatching and fomenting under her intriguing machinations; and the more especially as the gross improbabilities in the base aspersions thrown on the honour of the reigning Queen clearly manifest them to be the subornations of this ambitious step mother, apparently calculated to cover her treasonable perhaps fatal designs, in favour of her own offspring."

It is generally supposed the Danes will deliver up their Queen on demand, as previous to her marriage it was expressly stipulated, that, in case of a disagreement, she should be at liberty to return to her native country.

We are informed, that one indiscretion, which the Q. of D. was guilty of, gave great offence in that kingdom. The ladies of Denmark, unlike our country women, when they ride, beset their horses like men; but to preserve the decorum of the sex, they wear a petticoat over their drawers or breeches. Unhappily her M. looked upon the petticoat as an incumbrance, and when she hunted, dressed herself on Cavalier. This was immediately taken notice of by her enemies as a great act of indecency.

Whatever colour may have been put upon the insurrection just now raised in Denmark, the true cause, it is more than probable, will at last be found to have been the ambition of either the Queen Dowager, supported by the machinations of a discarded Minister, or of a discontented Nobility, anxious to recover that despotic power which their ancestors exerted over both the King and Commons in that country, till towards the latter end of the last century. The youth and inexperience of the present King, and an artful management of the native prejudices of the Danes, have afforded a very favourable opportunity for these designs; and it cannot but occur to the memory of every person, who has at all attended to the course of public intelligence, what pains have been taken to prepare the minds of foreigners for some singular event, by the many hints and anecdotes of the King and Queen of Denmark inserted in our own and in the foreign prints for more than a twelvemonth past, and which were of such a nature that they never could have been received as reports circulated among the inhabitants; nor had they even been true, could have found their way into foreign countries but to answer the views of treacherous and designing persons.

It is much feared that the King of Denmark, in order to obtain his liberty, will be induced to make some fatal concessions, which will not only render the interposition of the British Minister fruitless, but defeat even the most vigorous measures that can be entered into by our Court for his service.

It is whispered that the revolution at Copenhagen has been effected by the intrigues of the Queen Dowager, Julia Maria, of Brunswick Wolfenbutel, Mother-in-Law of the present King: she is said to be a very artful and ambitious woman, and has formed a design of getting the regency into her own hands, and afterwards of placing her own son on the throne. In this view she is secretly aided and assisted by the Grand Treasurer, the Baron de —, who accompanied the King of Denmark to —. He is a person of the meanest extraction, was formerly a merchant's clerk at Hamburg, and afterwards a Commissary during the late war. This man is remarkable for subtlety and intrigue, and bears a mortal aversion to the English nation. It is also said the whole is fomented and carried on by means of French gold and counsel.

A report has transpired that some late transactions at a certain northern Court were owing to the infernal machinations of the French Ambassador there, where it seems he has raised a Frenchified party to conspire against the honour and (it is feared) the life of the Queen, for opposing the French interest, and espousing that of this her native country, and forming a party for that purpose.

LONDON.

Extract of a Letter from Leghorn, Dec. 14.
"By a ship arrived from the Levant, we are informed that Ali Bey, having taken Damascus, made a terrible carnage among the Inhabitants who were unfaithful to him; and that to secure the fidelity of others for the future, he had carried off by way of hostage a great number of the sons of the most distinguished Turks."

Extract of a genuine Letter from Elfenour, dated Jan. 28.
"The frost begins to let in here very severely but there is yet but little ice in the sound, though it has appeared in great quantities in the harbour of Copenhagen."

"You know I seldom interfere in political matters, but the great confusion at Copenhagen has singularly affected this place. All is in confusion upon this side the Isle of Zealand, and the Swedish troops are in motion Scania, on the opposite shore. The Queen is confined at Kronenburgh, and reported to be exceeding ill—God send all may end well. French politics have prevailed; and we are assured the King has signed a new treaty with his most Christian Majesty and Sweden, no way to the advantage of the commerce of Great Britain. The public opinion is, that the Prince Royal, from undoubted proofs, will be declared illegitimate, and the King's half-brother proclaimed successor to the Throne. Count Guillemin keeps the Garison here continually under arms, as the common people have committed several outrages on the houses of some of the persons connected with the new Administration. The British Minister has acted with great spirit, but was used with uncommon rudeness by General Echardt and the new Council. In short, British influence at the Court of Copenhagen is now at an end. The present view of our Politicians, seems to be a union with France, Prussia, and Sweden, against the growing power of Russia, and consequently the interests of the Maritime Nations will be neglected. A report has just been circulated that the common people at Copenhagen have taken arms and opposed the new Council, and that great numbers of them have been destroyed by the soldiers."

It is said, that Prince Galitzin, the Russian Envoy at the Hague, has actually announced the pacification-plan between the Courts of Constantinople and St. Petersburg in full form at that Court and has declared that a formal ratification of it will be publicly notified at the Hague on or before the 15th of May next.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.

Extract of a letter from the Illinois country, dated Kaskaskias, June 14th, 1771.

"The next day after Lieut. Chapman and Ensign Hutchins left this place, the Kickapoo Indians killed and scalped an Englishman and a Negro on your plantation, but did no other mischief—Since then they have been seen three miles from Fort Chartres, to the number of about forty:—You have a very large crop of wheat and corn in the ground, and I will do all in my power to have it gathered in, and to keep the cattle together.—We live, as usual, in hourly expectations of more murders being committed by the savages."

Extract of a letter from the same Gentleman at the Illinois, dated at Kaskaskias, January 17th, 1772.

"On the 17th of July last I went out to your plantation to see if your harvest was gathered in, according to my agreement with the Frenchman I had hired for that purpose.—A few minutes after I entered the house, eight Kickapoo Indians who had been me riding through the grande Prairie, followed me into the house, and as I had no means to defend myself, they immediately made me prisoner.—From thence they conducted me through the Prairies to Wiotonon (their town near the head of the Wabache river) where we arrived the ninth day of a most fatiguing march.—They rode my horse by turns, but would never allow me the same indulgence.—On our arrival at the town, they stripped and painted me black, as is usual with the savages when they intend to burn their prisoners.—The next day they alighted a fire, bound and laid me before it, and were proceeding to exercise the most cruel tortures on me, when some French traders from Detroit, touched with compassion, interceded for my life, which, after two days consultation, the savages agreed to allow on the payment of a very great ransom; which, with my expences to return here, &c. will cost about three hundred pounds.—The 3d of August I left Wiotonon, and arrived here the 15th, from a miserable and distressing tour, which was worse than death to undergo."

"Since we have had possession of the Illinois country, the above nation of Indians, with their adherents, have taken seven English men and one woman prisoners, scalped one soldier of the 18th regiment alive, killed and scalped one soldier of the 18th regiment alive, killed and scalped upwards of thirty Englishmen from the age of 18 to 30 years, and robbed English merchants boats and stores to the value of ten thousand pounds—yet no measures are fallen on to chastise their perfidy!"

April 10. By Captain Sparks from London, we hear that Dr. Laughlin McLean is appointed to the Collectorship of this port, and that—O'Brien, Esq. is coming out Deputy Collector, having, as some letters mention, purchased it for £. 800.

Captain Biddle, who arrived here last Monday, from Hispaniola, informs, that a brig from Virginia, Graham, master, was lately seized by a French frigate for having four hogheads of sugar on board, which the Captain had taken in at Leoganne, in pay for lumber sold to the French General. The vessel was carried into Port au Prince, where she was condemned, and afterwards fitted out as a Guarda-Costa.

They write from Savannah in Georgia, that on the 10th of February, a molatto boy, 12 years old, died there of the Hydrophobia, having mad; having been bit by a mad dog six weeks before. Several children, two grown persons, and a number of dogs having been bit by dogs supposed to be mad, the inhabitants of Savannah are greatly alarmed, not knowing where the horrid calamity may stop.

INOCULATION.

THE E. Subscriber begs Leave to inform the Public, that he has opened a very convenient House in a remote, tho' pleasant Situation, within three miles of New-Brunswick for the Reception of such Persons as propose taking the Small-Pox by Inoculation. The best Attendance will be given; and every Thing proper for their Accommodation shall be furnished, at a very low and easy Rate.

MANY are deterred from being inoculated, on Account of sore Arms, Boils and large Abscesses, often attending the common Method of treating the Disease, but more particularly from the ill Effects of the too free and indiscriminate Use of Mercury, by which, many (tho' they recover of the Small-Pox, yet the Constitution being injured,) soon fall Victims to some other Malady.

ALL these Inconveniences are avoided by a particular Method of preparing the Patient, the most efficacious and the least detrimental to the Constitution, by the Manner of conveying the Infection, and by the subsequent Treatment of the Disease, without the least Confinement; the Advantages of which have been fully and clearly demonstrated in upwards of 400 Persons under the Subscriber's Care, in the space of a few Months, last Winter and Spring, without the Misfortune of losing any; nor has there died more than one of that Number since, which plainly shews the singular Advantages of this Method.

A sufficient Number to make it worth his While, in any Part of the Country, not contiguous to a Person properly qualified, (I don't mean authorised) shall be served on, at a short Notice, by the Publick's
Most obedient humble Servant,
JOHN COCHRAN.
